

Plastics: Local and Global

Kate O'Neill

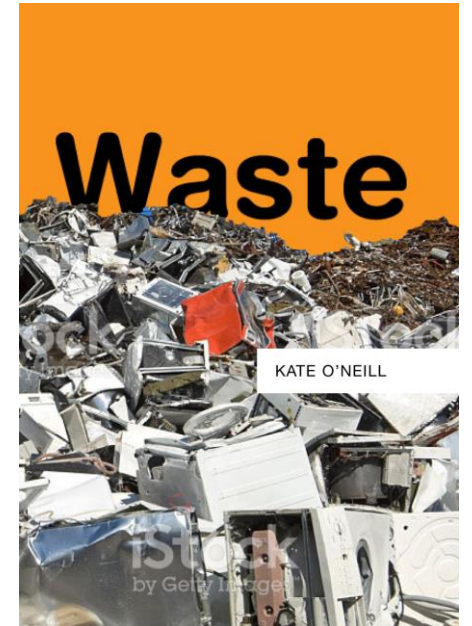

Department of Environmental Science, Policy and Management

UC Berkeley

@kmoneill2530

Research to date on discarded (“end of life”) plastics, and global waste/recycling

- The collapse of plastic recycling markets after China’s Operation National Sword
- Single-use plastics campaigns
- Local, state, federal and global governance

(available at theconversation.com/US)

Lead Author: Jessica Heiges, published July 14 2020

3

University of California, Berkeley, leads the way with country's strongest single-use plastic ban

Campus commits to an unprecedented, comprehensive plastic policy, which eliminates all non-essential single-use plastic by 2030

Press Release April 16, 2020 | CALPIRG Students

